ABOUT

I am a human experience storyteller - what drives me is to find and tell stories about how we interact with and explore our world for better understandings. My goal is to reveal what we can learn and grow from as a species through seeing and interacting with our natural world. Hopefully through this process, develop a kinship for all to love, protect, and enjoy our remaining wild places. I've been fortunate to work around the world for 4 years as a Cinematographer and Editor, and it leaves me ambitious to see more. Below are companies I've been on projects with or have Directed/created short films for. Below is my full Resume and References for review. I have had a heavy hand in creating over 55 short films, and over 65 educational videos.
